SPROUT

Seating Products

MERRYFAIR reserves the right to introduce modifications and withdraw models for continuous improvements without prior notice.

SPROUT is a compact, agile, and refreshingly simple task chair that redefines everyday workplace seating. Designed with intuitive comfort in mind, it delivers immediate ergonomic support with only minimal adjustments required — making it ideal for today's flexible and dynamic work environments.

Inspired by the organic form of a young sprout emerging and growing, Sprout symbolises new ideas, fresh thinking, and continuous movement. Its soft, flowing silhouette reflects the energy of collaboration and creativity, making it equally suitable as an individual workstation chair for students or professionals, as well as in larger corporate and collaborative settings.

Flexibility & Mobility

Sprout embraces flexibility and mobility. Both the seat and backrest are height-adjustable, allowing users to quickly adapt the chair to their preferred seating posture.

Natural & Sustainable Aesthetic

Created for modern offices, educational institutions, and agile workplaces, Sprout is especially suited for environments where users frequently move around and prefer a chair that feels comfortable instantly without the need for complicated adjustments.

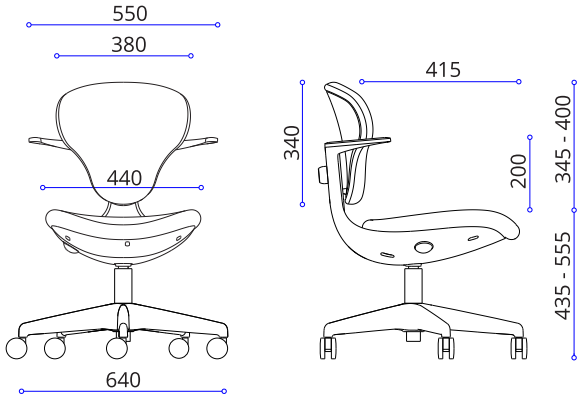

Comfort & Ergonomics

Ergonomic comfort is seamlessly integrated into the chair's structural design. The backrest offers a gentle flex in response to body movement, while the front edge of the seat is intentionally designed with a softer, more pliant profile to enhance sitting comfort over extended periods.
